

ALL TOGETHER NOW

Securing Safe Learning Environments for Florida LGBTQ Students

Dear Allies,

Do you know the facts?

A 2017 GLSEN National School Climate Survey demonstrated:

- The vast majority of LGBTQ students in Florida regularly hear anti-LGBTQ remarks.
- Many LGBTQ students in Florida report discriminatory policies or practices at their school.
- LGBTQ students attending schools with resources such as inclusive school policies and supports report more positive school experiences.
- LGBTQ students attending schools that provided safe learning environments had lower victimization and absenteeism and higher academic achievement.

Ground-breaking work continues across the state of Florida promoting safe and inclusive schools for our LGBTQ students. The steering committee for the All Together Now Conference is comprised of representatives from six school districts, Equality Florida, and Safe Schools South Florida. Equality Florida in conjunction with many national and local organizations is the front runner in assisting districts in promoting and creating best practices to ensure that LGBTQ students have equitable access to academic and extra curricula activities.

We are hosting our 6th All Together Now: Securing Safe Learning Environments for Florida's LGBTQ Students Conference. This is a robust and informative conference with senior leadership from districts, including superintendents and legal counsels, from across the state working together to ensure a more inclusive school environment for all LGBTQ students through policy making and implementation. Close to 200 school district leaders attended last year, representing 34 school districts, and we look forward to increased attendance in 2020.

You're invited to participate in the 2020 All Together Now Conference by becoming a sponsor.
