HOW TO BE AN ALLY FOR LGBTQ STUDENTS

▼ Listen. If a student comes to talk to you about being harassed, depressed, or having parental challenges, keep in mind that you may be the only person they feel safe speaking to. ▼ Respect confidentiality. Allies will respect their students' confidentiality and privacy- FERPA reminds us to do so. Assume they only told you and just want you to know, unless they indicate otherwise. ▼ Be conscious of your biases. Acknowledge how homophobia, transphobia and heterosexism may affect your efforts to be an effective ally. ▼ Seek out knowledge. Effective allies will periodically brush up on LGBTQ-related language, as well as current issues facing the LGBTQ community. ▼ Be a resource. An effective ally will also know when and how to refer students to outside help. The websites below include LGBTQ-related resources and referral sources for LGBTQ youth. -GLSEN

American School Counselor Association Position Statement

The school counselor works with all students through the stages of identity development and understands this may be more difficult for LGBTQ youth. It is not the school counselor's role to attempt to change a student's sexual orientation or gender identity. School counselors recognize the profound harm intrinsic to therapies alleging to change an individual's sexual orientation or gender identity (SAMHSA, 2015) and advocate to protect LGBTQ students from this harm. School counselors provide support to LGBTQ students to promote academic achievement and social/emotional development. School counselors are committed to the affirmation of all youth regardless of sexual orientation, gender identity and gender expression and work to create safe and affirming schools. schoolcounselor.org

American Counseling Association Code of Ethics

Counselors do not condone or engage in discrimination against prospective or current clients, students, employees, supervisees, or research participants based on age, culture, disability, ethnicity, race, religion/spirituality, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital/ partnership status, language preference, socioeconomic status, immigration status, or any basis proscribed by law. counseling.org
